During his time working for me, Pedro was responsible for conducting market research and data analysis to understand the needs and preferences of users. He created user personas and user journey maps to guide the design process, and his work was instrumental in developing user acquisition and customer retention strategies, including specific marketing campaigns for mobile applications.

He chose fonts, color palettes, and other visual elements to ensure a consistent aesthetic with our brand. He worked collaboratively with developers and other team members to ensure the correct functionality of the app.

During his tenure, Pedro worked on a full-time 40 weekly hours schedule and was paid a monthly salary of R$ 3,000.00 Brazilian Reais via wire transfer.

Please do not hesitate to contact me for any further clarifications.

Yours sincerely,
